Case Study:

Future Self Postcards— Aspect South Coast School

Participants spend a focused hour transforming a plain postcard using quality pencils, inks, printing techniques, collage, pastels and watercolour, and with a brief art lesson on a range of art mediums and techniques that they can all explore. This powerful exercise concludes with crafting a message to their future selves, which Wild Rumpus sends to them at a later date.

In-House Development sessions can include bringing in expert teachers in specific topics such as bush tucker, dance and movement, botanical illustration, team cooking and more.
